J roy nav med Serv 1991; 77: 255–256

Author Index

ALLSOPP A. The effect of hand immersion on body temperature when wearing impermeable clothing 41

BUXTON P J. The role of pulmonary angiography in the investigation of suspected pulmonary embolism 107

CARSS G A. The Retrograde Tunnel: a method for the fixation of central venous catheters in the military environment 75

CREWE T C. Malignant Ameloblastoma? A case report and review of literature outlining problems in diagnosis and treatment 5

DAVIES P R F. Laryngeal mask airway and tracheal tube insertion by unskilled personnel 21

DONALD K W. A Review of Submarine escape trials from 1945 to 1970 with a particular emphasis on decompression sickness 171

EVANS G H. Laryngeal mask airway and tracheal tube insertion by unskilled personnel 21

GILLEN C D. Subarachnoid Haemorrhage—New management strategy 201

GODDARD J C. An insight into the life of Royal Naval surgeons during the Napoleonic War. Part 1 205

GOLDEN F StC. Circum-Rescue Collapse: Collapse, sometimes fatal, associated with rescue of immersion victims 139

GREENSLADE G L. Laryngeal mask airway and tracheal tube insertion by unskilled personnel 21

HARDY P H. Fair Dinkum Way-out Woop-Woop: the Sydney to Darwin Motor Safari 1990. Parts 1 and 2 111, 165

HERVEY G R. Circum-Rescue Collapse: Collapse, sometimes fatal, associated with rescue of immersion victims 139

JOYCE W P. Balloon dilatation of benign oesophageal strictures: a prospective study as an out-patient procedure 103

LEICESTER R J. Management of gastrointestinal haemorrhage 33

LUKE W M. Medical Support Assistants: Early experience in training 27

MATEAR D W. Malignant Ameloblastoma? A case report and review of literature outlining problems in diagnosis and treatment 5

McNEILL LOVE R M C. The Cruel Field 119

NEWTON A P. Ice skating injuries: a survey of cases seen in an Accident and Emergency department 71

O'CONNELL M R. Some recent Naval engagements 55

PETERSON K A. The hazards of operational diving in heavily oil-polluted water 159

PETHYBRIDGE R J. Ventilation with isoflurane in the Triservice anaesthetic apparatus: a comparison with halothane and trichlorethylene 151

POOLE K A. The effect of hand immersion on body temperature when wearing impermeable clothing 41

PORTOUW S J. The hazards of operational diving in heavily oil-polluted water 159

REES M. Balloon dilatation of benign oesophageal strictures: a prospective study as an out-patient procedure 103

RIDDELL D I. Stress and infection 79

ROBERTS D R D. Ventilation with isoflurane in the Triservice anaesthetic apparatus: a comparison with halothane and trichlorethylene 151

SHEARD S C. Haematological and biochemical screening of potential Royal Naval aircrew 11

SORSBIE C M. An orthoptist's view of the St John Ophthalmic Hospital, Jerusalem, before and during the Intifada 17

SPALDING T J W. The Retrograde Tunnel: a method for the fixation of central venous catheters in the military environment 75

THOMAS J A. The Retrograde Tunnel: a method for the fixation of central venous catheters in the military environment 75

TIGHE S Q M. Laryngeal mask airway and tracheal tube insertion by unskilled personnel 21

TIPTON M J. Circum-Rescue Collapse: Collapse, sometimes fatal, associated with rescue of immersion victims 139

WALKER A J. Balloon dilatation of benign oesophageal strictures: a prospective study as an out-patient procedure 103

WATKINSON G E. Intensive Stress?? Caring under pressure 87

WESTWOOD P R. Medical Audit: A Well Woman clinic in the Royal Naval training practice, Gibraltar 49

WHEELER R A. The Retrograde Tunnel: a method for the fixation of central venous catheters in the military environment 75

J roy nav med Serv 1991; 77: 257–258

Subject Index

Abstracts—papers by Royal Naval Medical Officers 237
Benign oesophageal strictures, balloon dilatation of: a prospective study as an outpatient procedure 103
Body temperature when wearing impermeable clothing. The effect of hand immersion on 41
Book Reviews 59, 127, 239
Central venous catheters in the military environment, a method for the fixation of. The Retrograde Tunnel: 75
Circum-Rescue Collapse: Collapse, sometimes fatal, associated with rescue of immersion victims 139
Cruel Field, the 119
Editorial: For better or worse 137
Gastrointestinal haemorrhage. Management of 33
Gulf War, the 3
Haematological and biochemical screening of potential Royal Naval aircrew 11
An Historical Note: the build-up to VJ day and its aftermath 223
Ice skating injuries: a survey of cases seen in an Accident and Emergency department 71
Infection. Stress and 79
Laryngeal mask airway and tracheal tube insertion by unskilled personnel 21
Letters to the Editor 125, 235
Malignant Ameloblastoma? A case report and review of literature outlining problems in diagnosis and treatment 5
Medical Audit: A Well Woman clinic in the Royal Naval training practice, Gibraltar 49
Medical Support Assistants: Early experience in training 27
Naval engagements. Some recent 55
Obituaries 61, 129, 245
Operational diving in heavily oil-polluted water. The hazards of 159
Pressure, caring under. Intensive Stress?? 87
Pulmonary embolism, suspected. The role of pulmonary angiography in the investigation of 107
Royal Naval Medical Club Dinner 1991 231
The Royal Naval Reserve Medical Branch, new fighting team heads 123
Royal Naval surgeons during the Napoleonic War. An insight into the life of. Part 1 205
The St John Ophthalmic Hospital, Jerusalem, before and during the Intifada. An orthoptist's view of 17
Service News 63, 131, 249

Submarine escape trials from 1945 to 1970 with a particular emphasis on decompression sickness. A Review of 171

The Sydney to Darwin Motor Safari 1990. Fair Dinkum Way-out Woop-Woop. Parts 1 and 2 111, 165